1/ DESIGN DEBUT Inspired by the richly embellished fabrics for which it is named, the new Brocade collection by Architectural Ceramics features waterjet mosaics in decorative patterns. Pictured here, Brocade Ovals comes in Calacatta Gold marble and cliff-polished mosaic and is available at area locations. architecturalceramics.com

2/ BED TIME Belgium-based Libeco has added a new bedding collection to its selection of organic, washed-linen textiles. Memphis (pictured) includes sage-hued duvets and shams adorned with a small trim detail. Available locally at Timothy Paul Home in DC and Fairfax. timothypaulhome.com; libeco.com

3/ CREATIVE ILLUSION Designer Matthew Quinn's ingenious Continuum sink for MTI Baths utilizes the countertop cutout as the bottom of the sink to create a seamless look. The engineered-stone sink rim comes in customized heights. Available at Ferguson. ferguson.com; mtibaths.com

4/ HEAVENLY HARDWARE Made of solid hand-polished brass, Waterworks's Paddock drop-handle drawer pull echoes the look of equestrian tack. Its clean, classic design combines square and circular elements in five matte and polished finishes. Waterworks is located in Georgetown's Cady's Alley. waterworks.com

5/ COORDINATED EFFORT U.K.-based Villa Nova has launched six new collections, including Xander Wallcoverings, a line of coordinated non-woven and vinyl products that is distinguished by embossed effects, abstract patterns and lustrous finishes. Available through Romo in the Washington Design Center. romo.com; villanova.co.uk
