Above: The master suite was designed to be a private sanctuary, complete with an MTI Whirlpools MTDS-69 Rotunda tub that features seven-point massage jets. As with all MTI Whirlpools acrylic baths, the Rotunda has a renewable, non-porous and stain-resistant surface. The acrylic is backed by a thick layer of fiberglass/resin/titanium reinforcement for added strength and increased insulation.

There is a certain expectation that an upscale residence will include a glamorous spa-like retreat for the owners, and this is precisely the case with the Atlanta show home.

The centerpiece of the glittering master suite is an MTI Whirlpools MTDS-69 Rotunda tub set within a Calacatta marble surround. The Rotunda is equipped with a whirlpool system that provides seven-point massage jets, a pump and an inline heater.

Director of marketing Michael Kornowa says the Rotunda is also equipped with MTI Whirlpools' patented Fill-Flush® self-cleaning system, which ensures the whirlpool plumbing system is kept clean and hygienic at all times.

"The Fill-Flush system fills the tub through the jets," he says. "When the cleaning system is activated after a bath, a fresh supply of water and cleaner is circulated throughout the entire system including the water and air lines. Fill-Flush requires less than five gallons of water and five minutes to thoroughly clean the entire plumbing system, saving water and time."

Above right: The master bathroom shower features Kohler WaterTile sprayheads with electronic controls. All the bathroom fixtures and fittings were specified by Ferguson Bath, Kitchen & Lighting Gallery.

They may be the smallest rooms in the house, but the bathrooms reflect a great attention to detail. To ensure each bathroom would meet the exacting standards required, the homeowner and builder consulted Ferguson Bath, Kitchen & Lighting Gallery.

Showrooms manager Brittany Smith says the company was asked to create stylistically pleasing yet fully functional bathrooms that incorporated transitional designs in keeping with the home's decor.

"The challenge was to find high-quality products that would be long lasting and cater to the different style of each bathroom," Smith says. "We specified Kohler faucets, an MTI master tub and Kohler fixtures. These manufacturers have a deserved reputation, and offer a significant number of complementary products. The fixtures are in white, biscuit and sea salt, and faucets are in polished chrome."

Ferguson offers complimentary one-on-one consultations on bathware, appliances, lighting, fireplaces and plumbing.
