found throughout the world, these authentic working pots (there are no re-productions) were handcrafted during the 1800 and 1900 hundreds.

Each "one of a kind" pot carries not only the physical scars of a long life but the incredible natural patina" colors only use and time can create.

Before the transformation into a beautiful light fixture begins, each antique pot is registered and fixed with a I.D. Number and description plate

These treasured pot's, essential to the lives of families in the past, are a true piece of history reflecting the culture and stories of the people they served
