▼ Concrete forms a chef's dream of a sink, with a gliding steel strainer and divided bowls. Sonoma Stone casts this sink from NuCrete, the company's trademarked stainless concrete. See the available colors and textures online at www.sonomastone.com, or call (877) 939-9929 for information.

▲ The kitchen sink—and every other element of a modern kitchen—is tucked masterfully into YesterTec's Armoire Kitchen. The chest houses a sink, under-counter refrigerator, dishwasher drawer, cooktop and exhaust hood. The armoire can be styled to fit any décor. See more at www.yestertec.com, or call (877) 346-4976.

► Bring rustic beauty to your log home's bath or powder room with a cast-stone sink. Stain- and acid-proof, the sink requires little maintenance and no topical sealer. Go to www.jaaroncaststone.com, or call (404) 298-4200.

► Perfect for country cabins, a sprig of evergreens and pinecones accents this hand-painted sink. The self-rimmed bowl comes in three sizes and resists chipping, scratching and staining. Visit www.lightsthenorthernsky.com, or call (860) 447-8851.

All Washed Up

Stylish sinks make a Splash

- ▶ Your utility sink doesn't have to look so utilitarian. The Harborview sink from Kohler offers generous work-space with a wide single-basin design. The apron and underside are glazed the same color as the basin for flexible installation options. Go to www.us.kohler.com, or call (800) 456-4537.

- ▲ Julien chooses recycled stainless steel for its kitchen sinks—using a heavy gauge for durability and adding insulated pads to retain heat and absorb sound. The sinks are available in a wide range of styles. See more at www.julien.ca, or call (800) 461-3377.

- ▶ Bamboo, an environmentally sustainable material, has gained popularity in flooring; now it's moving up to vessel sinks. Totally Bamboo offers solid bamboo sinks that are hand-turned on a lathe, then sealed to be waterproof. Log on to www.totallybamboo.com, or call (760) 471-6600.
