These cutting-edge bathtubs are making a big splash

1 COOL CUSTOMER

Created by British design studio Conran and Partners for Victoria + Albert, this contemporary bathtub is available in seven exterior finishes in shades of white, gray, and black (shown: Englishcast White).

$5,600, at Ferguson, A&D Building, 150 E. 58th St., Ste. 400, NYC, 212-688-5990, ferguson.com.

2 BEST FEET FORWARD

The cast-iron Serpentine tub features Art Deco-style feet and comes in 14 finishes, as well as an option with a skirted bottom. $7,500, at Drummonds, A&D Building, 150 E. 58th St., 8th fl., NYC, 212-794-0157, drummonds-uk.com.

3 A GOOD EGG

The ovoid Vov is made in Italy of K-plan—a smooth, stain-resistant, resin-like material—and comes in black (shown), white, and black with a white interior. Prices range from $9,425 (white) to $15,426 (black), at Nella Vetrina, D&D Building, 979 Third Ave., Ste. 814, NYC, 646-415-9150, nellavetrina.com.

4 CLEAN LINES

Agape's utterly simple Immersion tub is the sleek brainchild of Shanghai- and London-based architecture firm Neri & Hu. $12,060, at Dom Interiors, 66 Crosby St., NYC, 212-253-5969, dominteriors.com.

5 COLORFUL PERSONALITY

German-based Villeroy & Boch's Loop & Friends series boasts plenty of options. This acrylic oval tub, shown in Sencha, can be ordered in more than 200 hues. Prices start at $3,700, by appointment at 41 Madison Ave., 18th fl., NYC, 212-988-7011, villeroy-boch.com.
