PASSING THE BATON

EMPLOYEE OWNERSHIP: HOW
THREE REMODELING COMPANIES
MADE THE TRANSITION

1 The K2005 iSense touch-free swivel faucet by Cinaton has a 150-degree spout rotation for flexibility and ease of use. It utilizes the company's patented iSense technology to provide easy operation without touching the faucet—a plus for those concerned about germs. Five infrared sensors give users control over 13 functions, from temperature to water flow. The faucet offers solid brass construction and a choice of brushed nickel or polished nickel finishes with a PVD coating. cinaton.com FOR MORE INFO, CIRCLE NO. 803

3 California Faucets' Matte White finish gives designers and homeowners an alternative to familiar chrome finishes. Available for the manufacturer's new Kitchen Collection of Italian-inspired, handmade faucets, the white finish blends well with contemporary, classic, or transitional décor. Matte White is available in the Davoli, Poetto, Corsano, Rosolina, and semiprofessional Culinary Series, and is one of more than 30 hand-applied finishes available from California Faucets' on its full line of solid brass kitchen and bath faucets. 4 MCN European Enterprises brings industrial chic to the bathroom with its Nature Cross Collection. Handles are detailed with a utilitarian cross design and capped with rounded balls. The design is softened by graceful curves and columns, so the finished look works with contemporary or traditional décor. Among the collection's configurations are a widespread faucet, a Roman bathtub set with handheld shower, and more. Available finishes include polished chrome, polished nickel, and brushed nickel.
