Clean Sweep

Smart and sleek storage for the bath

tidy tips

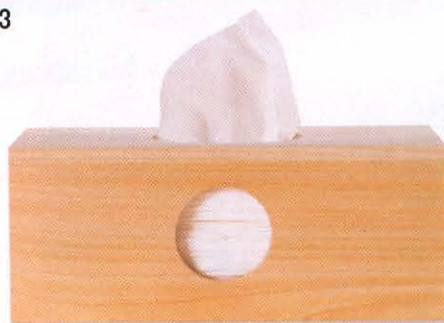

Get your bathroom organized for good with these tips from Vicki Norris, founder of Restoring Order (restoringorder.com).

- › BLANK SLATE Completely empty out and clean your medicine cabinet and vanity drawers. Sort products, creating categories as you go. And be ruthless, says Norris. "Let go of gift lotions, old makeup and expired medicine."
- › ELIMINATE EXCESS Differentiate between "overstock" and everyday items. "Move unopened packages, huge bottles and rarely used products to a cabinet in an adjacent room," says Norris. Avoid bulk buys, and purchase refills only when they're needed.
- › HAPPY HOME If you share your bathroom with a spouse or the entire family, allot zones for each person. Each should be responsible for maintaining his or her own area.
- › ACTIVE ORDER Embrace the new system and don't let clutter pile up. "Good organization is about practicing a daily habit," says Norris.

1 ZEN-LIKE

The freestanding rounded shape of the Yume from MTI Whirlpools takes its cue from Japanese-inspired tubs and is designed with a crescent-shaped bench that encourages a long, restful soak. $4,940. 800-783-8827; mtiwhirlpools.com

2 OLD WORLD CRAFTSMANSHIP

Made of cast polymer, the thermo-insulated Tuscany by Six Eleven Architectural Bathtub Design needs less energy to heat and remain warm. The shapely vessel takes four days to make because it's 100 percent handcrafted and customizable, from jet locations to material. $13,608. 818-764-5810.

3 SIMPLE SOLUTION

To fix the problem of whirlpool pipe bacteria buildup, the Cierra Spa Bath from Purewater Baths has a pipeless system that delivers water through a small, efficient motor housed behind each of its eight jets—and does the job with 50 percent less noise than conventional piped whirlpools. $4,195. 214-265-7873; purewaterbaths.com
