EASY ADD-ON

These 4¼-inch-high stainless steel Paragon house numbers are a simple way to upgrade a facade via their industrial-strength adhesive backing; just peel and stick on almost any surface. $19 each. From Atlas Homewares. 800-799-6755; www.atlashomewares.com.

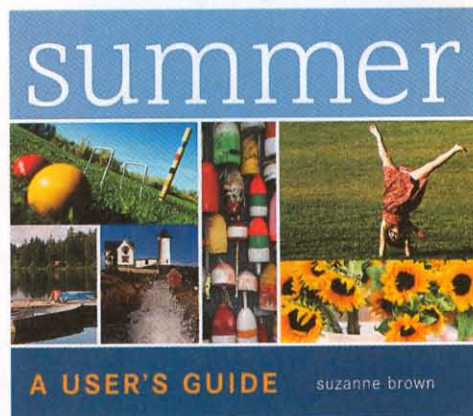

GRILL WORK

Mastering the barbecue just got a whole lot easier. Eva Solo's new 23×31½-inches-high stainless steel grill has three separate burners, so there's no getting all fired up when guests want their meat cooked at different temperatures. "Bring on the burgers," says Ty. $2,080. 888-898-6422; www.unicahome.com.

'TIS THE SEASON

Rediscover some of summer's simple pleasures—clam digging, making wind chimes, kite flying—with Suzanne Brown's Summer: A User's Guide (Artisan). "This book will help you stay busy all season," says Ty. $20. 212-254-5900; www.workman.com.

REINVENTING THE WHEEL

This rugged Recycled Tire Bucket from NapaStyle is fashioned from used rubber that's softened by white hand stitching and metallic button fasteners. Measuring 12×20 inches in diameter, it can hold a hefty payload. $78. 866-776-1600; www.napastyle.com.
