

hospitality design

past
present
future

guest editor:
roger thomas

hold everything

1 2

3 4

1. American of Martinsville's AOM Studios is now incorporating one of the latest trends in casegood design—Corian surfaces—and juxtaposing it against rich walnut. The end result is this modern side table, fitting for a hotel guestroom.

www.americanofmartinsville.com

2. Montague has teamed up with BAMO, Inc. to create custom designed guestroom casegoods. This piece, the Interlocking Side Table, is shown in Macassar Ebony with an inset lacquer block tray courtesy of fabrications design company Gail DeLoach.

www.williammontague.com

3. Suite Simplicity's Piano Desk features a dark and light walnut finish with custom stainless steel oval hardware. The desk has a unique transparent and patterned tempered glass top.

www.suitesimplicity.com

4. Samuelson Furniture's newest piece designed by John Black for the Delano Collection comes custom and in 25 standard finishes (shown here in a hand-rubbed espresso finish with drawers finished in a cracked distressed silver leaf). Features include four spacious drawers that are fully dovetailed and solid nickel-plated brass hardware.

www.samuelsonfurniture.com