Alessi

The Italian blue-chip houseware maker tapped Dutch architect Wiel Arets to develop a contemporary bathroom suite. Laufen manufactures the resulting Dot collection's clean-lined pedestal washbasin 8.1190.2 using slick white porcelain. The eponymous dot appears as a singular circular indentation in the surface. 212-941-7300; alessi.com. circle 711

Poggenpohl

Sit back and enjoy the show. The new Dining Desk expands to incorporate modular functions—from a teppan yaki grill to hot and cold boxes, thanks to a clever Draenert mechanism that can be motorized. The Statuario marble surface shown is just one of 13 available natural stones offered; five wood veneers provide additional options. 800-987-0553; poggenpohl-usa.com. circle 712

Houzer

Crisply mount a Novus sink as shown, or choose not to expose any of the stainless reveal at the lip. Either way, the multifunctional basin offers nearly-square $\frac{3}{8}$ -inch-radius corners and a working depth of 10 inches. The interchangeable dual platform system fits an additional work surface along with a drying or cutting board. To quiet the kitchen, the 30-inch stainless bowl is backed by sound insulation.

Graff

The Solar series floor-mount tub filler is one of 21 designs (plus numerous shower configurations) in this contemporary line, which references the Prairie style and muscular modernism of Gerrit Rietveld and California's Case Study houses. The solid brass faucet with ceramic valves comes in polished chrome, steelinox, and architectural black. 800-954-4723; graff-faucets.com. circle 713

Bradley Corporation

Compact hand dryers in the Aerix line can be individually tweaked, for air speeds that will facilitate drying in as little as 10 seconds in active installations. Or, choose quieter operation at a lower speed for sound-sensitive environments, such as libraries. Vandal-resistant finish options for the cover include white enameled steel, cast iron, or satin-finish stainless.
