

SIMPLY ELEGANT. ALWAYS BEAUTIFUL.

Introducing snow dusted Arctic White marble by StoneImpressions.

for immediate release: 11.19.18

White is always a smart choice when it comes to interior design. It's the perfect blank canvas to infuse intricate patterns that provide a dramatic focal point in any design.

StoneImpressions is pleased to offer a stunning new stone option for those who appreciate the design purity of white. Their Arctic White marble is a solid bright white stone with a crystallized structure and no veins. As part of their Artisan Collection, it comes in a beautifully honed finish. Choose from the brand's array of patterns to add dramatic texture and color and create a truly sophisticated kitchen or bath. This stunning marble is perfect for interior projects such as walls, backsplashes, countertops and flooring.

The perfect backdrop for their exquisite patterns, Arctic White stones are crafted from the finest natural stone and sealed with a clear three-part acrylic topcoat that is incredibly durable. As with all StoneImpressions products, Arctic White marble is available in bespoke orders with custom options. The tiles come in both 6x6 and 12x12 sizes and are offered through the company's quick ship program for speedy delivery.

About StoneImpressions

The creative impetus behind StoneImpressions came from artist Melinda Earl in 1994 as she sought new ways to transfer images onto stone. After much trial and error, she perfected a process that eventually led to the establishment of StoneImpressions, a fast-growing enterprise now with over 400 authorized dealers throughout North America. The company offers an extensive line of made-to-order, fully customized patterned tiles and murals. With four different types of stone and an impressive range of designs from traditional to modern, Stone Impressions offers tiles to complement any décor. A proprietary sealing process ensure long-lasting beauty and easy maintenance.
