HIGHLIGHTS Warm color and strong texture define the new Prairie Arts & Crafts kitchen. ■ The historic art-glass windows remain unchanged, and their square motif became a decorative element that repeats in new work. Other details come from the original house or Prairie School precedent. ■ Light fixtures were custom-made to complement the original architect-designed fixtures still in the house. ■ Although small bedrooms were combined, walls stayed in place. A few partitions were added to create privacy alcoves for the water closet and custom shower. ■ The large porcelain soaking tub all but defines baths of this era. ■ Stone plinths keep wood casings away from tile floors for easy cleaning.

DAVID HEIDE DESIGN STUDIO, MINNEAPOLIS: DHDSTUDIO.COM

the house, is a look we've always liked.

An improvement that exceeded our expectations is the addition of two Solatubes, disguised behind a wood and glass frame designed by DHD Studio. Now natural light floods the upper hall, stairway, and entry hall.

We really enjoyed the give-and-take with the Heide team. A previous Heide kitchen that we'd fallen in love with inspired our kitchen's slate-mosaic flooring, granite countertops, and red birch cabinets and trim. The Studio was helpful as we chose final hardware and paint colors. Our general contractor Tim Lemke was outstanding, not only providing high-quality work by his team and subcontractors, but also helping us identify where we could manage costs without compromising integrity.
