Noz Recycle, Fritz Hansen

Japanese studio Nendo designed this stackable chair—made of upcycled household plastic waste—with a back that mimics the form of a folded piece of paper. Available in seven color options, Noz can be specified with four powder-coated or chrome steel legs, a sledge chromed steel base, or polished aluminum swivel base, and with or without arms. Optional seat cushions come in black, dark gray, and light gray. fritzhenzen.com

Captain Flint Outdoor Floor Lamp, Flos

London-based industrial designer Michael Anastassiades has redesigned his classic 2015 floor lamp, Captain Flint, for exterior applications. Now waterproof, the 60½"-tall fixture features a stone base—in black lava stone, gray lava (shown), and occhio di pernice lava, or travertine—paired with a conical diffuser in black, brushed brass, stainless steel, or deep brown, respectively. Available in 2700K, 3000K, and 4000K color temperatures. usa.flos.com

Flight Bench, Forms+Surfaces

Designed in collaboration with Houston-based OJB Landscape Architecture, this minimalist bench is suitable for outdoor and indoor settings. Made of a corrosion-resistant powder-coated aluminum frame that can be painted in one of 16 matte colors or three glossy colors, the bench can be specified with a Cumaru hardwood or high-performance concrete seat. Available in 6' or 8' lengths at a standard height of 18" and width of 17¼". forms-surfaces.com

The Blake, MTI Baths

A collaboration with New York architecture firm Studio DB, this 66"-by-32"-by-22½" tub is made of the manufacturer's proprietary, nonporous, and mold- and mildew-resistant SculptureStone material, which consists of 75% organic components. Originally designed for a Brooklyn condo project, the Blake can hold up to 120 gallons of water. Offered as a soaker (weighing 360 lbs) or air bath (weighing 375 lbs), the Blake comes in a standard white matte finish, with optional color and gloss upgrades. mtibaths.com
