What's Hot in Sinks

1. BLANCO introduces its IKON 33-in. apron 1-3/4 bowl with low-divide sink, shown here in white. Designed to make prepping, cooking and cleaning more efficient and comfortable, its convenient low divide sits just 5-1/2 inches from the sink bottom, making it easier to handle large pots and baking sheets while still dividing the sink into cleaning and prepping areas. Optional accessories include a Floating Grid for an extra level within the sink.

2. The Forte apron-front sink from BOCCHI USA features a slim profile and a blend of natural materials that allows its wall thickness to be cut nearly in half. Because of this, the Forte offers 15 to 20 percent more cubic volume than the average apron-front sink. It is available in Bocchi's designer colors, including white, black (shown here in matte black) and gray in both matte and glossy finishes, as well as sapphire blue, biscuit and brown.

3. HASTINGS TILE & BATH's new customizable Urban Collection of vessel, pedestal and integrated sinks, vanities and storage solutions is available in multiple finishes and materials – including two-tone options. Shown here is a vessel sink version, which is available in matte-white solid surface or 20 other finishes, including pulpsi chiaro, shown here.

4. The RAK Precious, a single-bowl, rectangular, wall-hung basin from BARCLAY PRODUCTS LIMITED, is constructed of porcelain and has a 4 and 3/4-in. depth. This basin comes with a drain, as well as a porcelain cover, which allows it to give the appearance of an invisible drain. Available shades include behind gray, Carrara, cool gray, macaubus, travertino ivory and unidark black (shown here).

5. Inspired by the Italian sports car maker, Ferrari, RUVATI now offers bold yellow for its epiGranite series of kitchen sinks. Made from 80 percent crushed natural granite, the sink has a proprietary resin that makes it non-porous and resistant to stains, bacteria and extreme temperatures.

6. SHAW'S now offers double-bowl versions of its Shaker Apron-Front Fireclay Kitchen Sink. Crafted in Great Britain, every Shaws fireclay sink is hand poured, shaped and stamped with the name of the artisan who made it, and it takes more than three weeks to create. The sink is shown here in white.

7. KOHLER has added a new apron-front farmhouse sink made of the composite material, Neorec, to its Cairn line. Made from tiny quartz particles combined with a strong epoxy resin, Neorec has high impact resistance and can withstand heat up to 750 degrees. The new sink is available in 9 inches for installations that include new cabinetry, as well as a 7-in. apron option for retrofitting existing cabinets.

8. Shaped like a flower and featuring rose gold accents, LONDON BASIN CO.'s new Zeina White porcelain basin boasts a hint of Arabic charm and is hand decorated with a flutter of multi-colored butterflies, both inside and out. Zeina White is a new version of one of London Basin Co.'s most popular designs; originally with a dark background, it is now available in white.
