

What's Hot Everywhere Else

- 1. The new Frank Lloyd Wright Bath Collection by BRIZO was developed with the architect's philosophy and principles of simplicity, individuality, belonging, palette, substance and integrity in mind. Included in the collection are lavatory faucets, tub fillers (shown is the Two-Handle Floor version), shower systems and components and accessories - all available in polished chrome, Brilliance Polished Nickel, Brilliance Luxe Nickel, Brilliance Luxe Steel, Brilliance Polished Nickel with Wood and Brilliance Luxe Nickel with Wood. Price varies across collection. brizo.com.
- 2. SILESTONE introduces the Ethereal Collection, which is made with HybriQ+ technology and is available in four colorways: Dusk, Haze, Glow and Noctis. Ethereal Glow (shown) was inspired by the sunset and features gold and gray veins on a white foundation. The collection's hybrid blend is now manufactured using 99% recycled water, 100% renewable electric energy and a minimum of 20% recycled raw materials. Pricing is available upon request. www.silestoneusa.com
- 3. The Brookings Vanity from FAIRMONT DESIGNS now offers a slightly textured Polar White finish and sizes from a more compact 21-in. version to a 72-in. double bowl - with 30- and 36-in. wall-mount constructions. The vanity offers polished-chrome hardware, and the interior features a power station with two AC outlets and two USB ports. Price ranges from $1,350 to $3,400; tops and sinks are sold separately. www.fairmontdesigns.com/bath
- 4. GESSI's SpotWater Collection of swiveling tubular showerheads was inspired by theatrical stage spotlights and is part of the brand's Private Wellness Program. Four different aerators are available, including rain, mist, waterfall and multi-spray, and the wall-mounted showerheads are fully adjustable with flexible joints that allow each to be precisely positioned for a customized experience. Finishes include copper, aged bronze, polished nickel, antique brass and shades of white, black and gold. The collection retails from $1,400 - $3,500. Gessi.com
- 5. Inspired by industrial I-beams, WATERMARK DESIGNS' Brut bathroom faucet collection was designed in collaboration with Jonathan Glatt of O&G Studio. It involves two different polishing processes on the same brass component and is available in 27 different finishes – it is shown here in brass. Price starts at $1473. www.watermark-designs.com
- 6. STERLINGHAM CO. LTD. introduces Marble Rails, a line of towel warmers that pairs marble accents and solid brass. Part of the Cascades Collection, the line features a space-saving design that consumes less wall area than traditional warmers. The single rails can be hung alone or stacked and arranged in nearly any formation and are available with Nero Marquina (shown), Bardiglio Nuvolato, Bianco Carrara Venatino, Calacatta Gold Calo-Bett and Giallo Sienna. Price ranges from $2,880 to $3,420, depending on finish. Sterlingham.co.uk
- 7. EGE SERAMIK's new glazed porcelain tile collections Icon (shown) and Nest - feature both matte and glossy finishes through state-of-the-art printing technology and design craftsmanship. This new feature allows the 24-in. by 48-in. floor or wall tiles to react to light differently throughout the day. Pricing is available upon request. www.egeseramik.com
- 8. The Urban Suite hardware collection from ASHLEY NORTON has six new designs that represent angles, as well as shapes inspired by nature. The designs are available in a variety of sizes, are now offered in satin brass and include a Square Knob, Wave Pull, Leaf Pull, Box Pull, Bridge Pull and Flat Knob. Other finishes include flat black, polished chrome and stain nickel, and pricing starts at $14.20 for knobs and $17 for pulls. Ashleynorton.com
