Shower system combines function, aesthetics

GESSI brings dramatic style to the shower with its new SpotWater Collection of swiveling tubular showerheads. Designed with a nod to iconic spotlights of the theatrical stage, the shower system is bold yet refined, notable for its seamless merging of classic elegance and raw industrial chic. Choose from four different aerators to customize water flow options, including rain, mist, waterfall and multi-spray. The easily installed wall-mounted showerheads are fully adjustable with flexible joints that allow each to be precisely positioned.

Collection with knurled details available for bath adds to its selection of bathroom fixtures with the Muncy Collection, which was previously available only for kitchens. The artistry of knurled elements perfectly complements a clean, contemporary canvas. This industrial fusion pairs a distinctive knurled handle and engine shell with a simplistically beautiful bent tube spout. It includes faucets, tub and shower sets, Roman tub sets, towel bars, robe hooks and toilet paper holders. As with the kitchen version of Muncy, the bath collection is available in 25 decorative finishes.

NEWPORT BRASS

Drains offer rustic, industrial feel

SONOMA FORGE presents a selection of coordinating drains for the bathroom, designed to retain functionality and performance. The shower drains are reminiscent of industrial grates, with a solid, forged look and nickel-bronze tops. These ADA-compliant drains come in 4-inch square, 5-inch square, 6-inch square, 4-inch round and 6-inch round. The lavatory drains offer a flip-top drain that is stylistically engraved with the brand's water wheel logo. A soft-touch drain and a grid drain are available. | sonomaforge.com

Vanities bring craftsmanship, style to bathroom

LENOVA launches a line of bathroom vanities fully made in the U.S. with two distinctive models that represent all the best American innovation, technology and traditional craftsmanship. The Manhattan is a clean, modern design with straight lines and mitered details on the modified shaker doors. The Classic collection offers a softer silhouette with an arched curve to its sides and elegantly tapered legs. Both are thoroughly stylish, feature ample surface and storage spaces, and are artfully designed for the practicalities of daily living.

Tub fillers pair urban flair with performance

ISENBERG expands its Serie 250 collection with industrial style in great demand to include a trio of extraordinary tub fillers. The company captures the essence of a metropolitan vibe with the Serie 250, from boldly curved silhouettes to the cleverly knurled handles. The end look is chic and cool with a hint of modern edge and bravado. Choose from three configurations: a Roman tub faucet with three-hole deck mount; a wall-mount design with two handles; and a freestanding floor-mount faucet.
