MEREDITH SPECIALS

THIS PHOTO: Windows with black frames draw attention to the view outside. OPPOSITE TOP: To streamline his cooking Michael requested his tools be conveniently located. A magnetic strip keeps the chef's knife collection within reach. OPPOSITE BOTTOM: Glassware and cutlery are displayed on open shelving—in this butler's pantry and in the kitchen—rather than tucked away in upper cabinetry.

“

EVERY DAY THAT MICHAEL IS AT HOME, HE'S USING THAT KITCHEN.

—NICHOLAS BOTTA, ARCHITECT

Q

WHAT WERE MICHAEL'S REQUESTS FOR HIS HOME KITCHEN?

For starters, his clearances between working surfaces were different than what we normally would do. Typically, we allow for 42 to 48 inches of space between areas; Michael wanted them closer together, between 36 and 42 inches. He wanted to be able to open the oven, take out a dish, and drop it on the island right behind him. Because he works by himself, he doesn't have to worry about making room for someone prepping at the island while he's cooking at the range.

STAYING warm

A sauna and heated flooring cozy up a Connecticut bath that offers the perfect blend of old and new.
