Curated Colors

Adding a “pop of color” is a tried-and-true way to inject the desired hue into a design scheme. And Hardware Renaissance puts a fresh twist on that idea with their solid bronze hardware in artistic patinas. The brand's artistic finishes are unlike anything on the market. They cannot be duplicated by painting or dipping. Instead, they are the works of skilled artisans who use a meticulous multi-step process to create dimensional layers of color, veining and highlights. And their names are as glorious as their shimmering finishes – Cascade Green, Navajo Silver, Red Autumn Leaves, Old Copper and Tuscan Bronze. Introduce curated colors into living spaces color through finishes that are a visual and tactile delight.

Fireclay Beauty

HamatUSA has recently expanded its Chelsea Fireclay Sink Collection to include an entire series of undermount fireclay sinks. Fireclay, with its higher aluminum content and higher firing temperatures, is the most durable and most natural kitchen sink material. These new sinks are made by combining old-work hand craftsmanship with modern technology. Artisans work alongside computer-controlled robotics to monitor each step of the fabrication process. The larger 30" sink comes in double and single bowl options and the mid-size 23" sink is perfect as a prep sink or in laundry applications. While the small 16" x 16" prep sink completes the collection and works well in an island or even as a bar sink. The Chelsea undermount fireclay sinks are available in white, biscuit, matte black and matte grey.
