Bath

Tub brings elegance to smaller spaces

MTI BATHS solves a common bathroom design dilemma with the introduction of its new Eryn tub. Freestanding bathtubs are incredibly popular but do consume more floorspace than traditional alcove tubs, often creating a challenge for smaller bathrooms. MTI engineered the Eryn with a compact footprint that allows it to fit neatly into tight spaces. Measuring 60 inches long, its single slipper design is not often found on compact models, making the tub a standout for both its looks and smart configuration.

Showerhead blends classic, modern styles brings a new twist to classic design with its traditionally styled ultra-thin showerhead. It features familiar shapes that traditional style enthusiasts will appreciate but in a super-slim, 1-inch-thin design. The new option adds a touch of elegance to today's spa-inspired baths and gives designers even more choices for creating luxuriously personalized spaces. The addition of self-cleaning rubber jets makes the ultra-thin showerhead a breeze to maintain.

CALIFORNIA FAUCETS

Collection creates sense of movement, dynamism

ROHL reflects the trend of soft modernism and speaks to the combination of qualities that please the aesthetic senses with its Amahle Bath Collection. The fine arc of the faucet is juxtaposed with a selection of handles from circles to crisscrossing lines to right-angled levers, all enhanced with detailing that pays homage to the form. Available in faucets, tub fillers, accessories and shower solutions, the Amahle Bath Collection creates a sense of dynamism and movement. | houseofrohl.com

Hardware designed to completely conceal screws

CRL launches three new luxury shower hinge lines for frameless shower doors. Expanding its portfolio of low-profile hardware for frameless shower enclosures, CRL adds the Bellagio, Como and Lugano designs. Each family of premium shower hinge has been tested to 100,000 cycles, which is five times the industry standard for performance testing. Rigorous testing ensures the hinges will operate flawlessly in both residential and commercial environments. | crlaurence.com

Specialty drain finishes match on-trend fixtures

INFINITY DRAIN introduces a Specialty Finish collection that offers designers the ability to match on-trend finishes in bathroom settings. The manufacturer studied trends in conjunction with designer custom orders to create the formulations for five new finishes: Matte White, Gunmetal, Satin Champagne, Polished Gold and Polished Brass. The company also has full custom design capabilities to create linear and center drains to specifications like size, outlet location and color. infinitydrain.com
