RUVATI

DEEP RELAXING SOAK. SMALL FOOTPRINT

Ruvati's new Omnia Ofuro bathtub offers a modern interpretation of the traditional Japanese soaking tub

Discover Ruvati's newest masterpiece in luxury bath design: the Omnia Ofuro freestanding tub. This modern interpretation of a traditional Japanese ofuro bathtub offers a deeply relaxing bathing experience and an ideal way to add a luxury retreat to a small space. Inspired by centuries-old Japanese bathing traditions, Ofuro tubs are shorter and deeper, allowing bathers to lounge comfortably while immersing the body in warm water. This bathing style helps ease muscle tension, promotes relaxation, and creates a calming ritual at the end of the day.

In addition to its wellness benefits, the Omnia Ofuro tub is appreciated for its elegant, minimalist design and compact footprint, measuring just 55" x 29-1/2" x 29-3/4", with a luxurious interior bathing depth of 27". The gently rounded interior and built-in elevated seat provide exceptional comfort and support, encouraging full-body immersion. The unique design maximizes space while adding a serene, spa-like vibe that blends simplicity, warmth, and tranquility.

Made in Italy by skilled artisans, the Omnia Ofuro bathtub is crafted from Ruvati's signature epiStone – an exclusive blend of 70% organic crushed stone and minerals with a proprietary resin, creating a solid surface with incredible strength and durability. It mimics the look of natural stone, is silky smooth to the touch, and features a seamless, non-porous surface that
